Publishing Board of Directors Minutes

by Allan Lindberg, Publications Chair

Unapproved Minutes of the Board of Directors meeting will be published on the web page until the Board of Directors approves the minutes. Unapproved minutes will then be removed from the Web page and the Approved Minutes will be printed in News & Views. Any questions please call Allan Lindberg 503- 804-3982.

Veterans Event

by Kathy Hiller for Tami Randel-Country Meadows Village

Country Meadows Village is partnering with Coffee Hour for an event in November that honors all veterans. This seems like a long way off, but we need these items no later than the end of August. Send or drop off the following information to the Resource Table in the Auditorium at Thursday morning Coffee Hour or to Country Meadows Village (155 Evergreen Road).

1. Picture of veteran (or we can take your photo at the event).
2. Full name.
3. Rank when discharged.
4. Branch of service.
5. Were you on active duty during wartime?

Your cooperation is greatly appreciated as well as our thanks for your service. Help us make this event a memorable one for you and your community. Thank you.

Why the Total Solar Eclipse Arrives from the West

by Paul Sutter, Astrophysicist • Written August 13, 2017

Every day, the same routine. The sun rises in the east. Breakfast. Off to work. Work. Home from work. Dinner. The sun sets in the west. Repeat. It's a pattern familiar to everyone on Earth. For countless generations, we've relied on the regular cycles of the heavens to help demarcate our days.

But a total solar eclipse, like the big one coming to the continental United States on Aug. 21, will break the routine. In addition to the moon completely covering the face of the sun — which, let's admit, is already pretty spectacular—the event will move in an unfamiliar and possibly disquieting direction: from west to east.

The normal, daily rising and setting of celestial objects isn't due to their own movement, but rather the rotation of Earth. As our planet spins on its axis, the heavens appear to rise up from the east, arch their way across the sky, and settle into the west.

It's hard to blame our ancestors for assuming that Earth — which seemed very large and strong — was incapable of movement, with the ethereal denizens of the heavens gliding along their nested crystal spheres, giving humans our familiar, clockwork celestial movements.

After centuries of serious work, people realized that Earth does indeed spin, and the motion of the sun, moon and stars is only apparent. But when it comes to solar eclipses we're faced with a new incongruity: why does the path of a solar eclipse start in the west and end in the east? The answer is simple, but it's not something we're accustomed to thinking about: the moon itself orbits Earth from west to east. In other words, if you could rocket up high above the North Pole, the moon would trace out a counterclockwise circle. But Earth rotates about 30 times for a single lunar orbit, so it's not something we normally notice. During a solar eclipse, the path of the moon's shadow must follow the motion of the moon itself — to the east.

Travel Report

by Kathy Hiller

Jim and Ruthann Audritsh were vacationing through the middle of the US in June, traveling via Amtrak. They had their own sleeping area complete with restroom and 2 foot by 2 foot shower! Jim said it was a tight squeeze.

Stops along the way included Seattle, Washington; Chicago, Illinois; Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit, Michigan (where Jim said they visited a casino and left some money).

Don't forget to send in your own travel photos with or without a copy of News & Views. We love to hear your stories.

Restroom Door Handles

by Tom Staskiewicz

Have you visited one of our restrooms lately? A couple of weeks ago Frank Bathke installed new Saniguard door handles. These handles make it easier for people who have problems gripping a door knob or handle.

Primarily designed as a more sanitary handle where you do not have to use your hands, it also makes opening a door easier for our members who find it difficult to grip a handle. Simply place your wrist or forearm behind the door and pull.

We are always looking for suggestions to make using our facilities easier for our members. If you have suggestions place them in the suggestion box by the office.

Scam Warning

Submitted by Betty Soule

On July 22, 2017, I received a phone call from "Robert Barker" telling me I had won a grand total of $950,000, a Sears' washer & dryer, plus a bonus prize of $5000 weekly for life from Publishers Clearing House Sweepstakes* Contest. I was the second place winner! Was I excited? NO. Was I skeptical? VERY!

After answering a few basic questions (I was not asked, nor would I have answered questions about my social security number, banking numbers, etc.), I was given a confirmation number and a security code number. All I had to do to claim these fabulous prizes was to take a copy of my answered questions, two forms of I.D. plus a registration of receipt (which the Prize Patrol would give me) after meeting the Prize Patrol at the local, Walmart store. I was also supposed to give them $525.25 for a processing and handling fee – in cash, no checks.

When I questioned the processing/handling fee, Mr. Barker put my phone on hold until his supervisor was free to explain it to me. While on hold (I have two phones), I called Publishers Clearing House's 800 number and was told that my "winning" telephone call was, as I suspected, a scam. PCH never notifies sweepstakes winners by phone (it would spoil the surprise) and never, ever, charges a fee for any reason.

Needless to say, "Mr. Barker's" supervisor never did contact me and I never won the "prizes". Since I never paid the $525.25 processing/handling fee, I do feel that I am a winner!

So, dear friends and neighbors, if you receive a phone call similar to mine, do not give out any confidential, personal information; do not meet with the "prize" bearer; and do not pay any sort of fee. But do keep a tight grip on your purse strings. I sure am glad I did.

\ Betty adds that Publishers Clearing House does have a legal Sweepstakes Contest.*

When it comes to Roofing... Don't be fooled by what the competition may have to offer!

FACT

Over the past 15 years RoofRite Services has successfully installed over 140+ New Roofs within Woodburn Estates and we have the statistics to back it up! It has always been our goal to exceed the minimum requirements for roof installation. New roofing contractors come and go, but RoofRite Services has a proven track record and, the reason we install the larger number of roofs can be summed up in three ways:

1. Above Standard Quality Products and Service.

2. Long Term Service and Stability with Proven Track Record.

3. Lifetime Warranty High Wind Algae Resistant Shingles

Community Presentation on Smith Development

by Ad Hoc Committee

Anyone and everyone who may be interested in the Smith housing development that will be happening sometime in the future, will want to attend the “Community Presentation on Smith Development” in the auditorium, on Monday, August 28, which is scheduled from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. City representatives will be at the clubhouse to answer questions as best they can for how the future development of this area may affect Woodburn Estates & Golf.

Directly affected properties abutting the area to be developed are: the back of Nellie Muir Elementary School; several homes on the south side of W Hayes between the grade school and Smith Drive; several homes in Smith Addition along the west side of McLaughlin Drive; many of the homes on the east side of S Cascade Drive; and homes along the south side of Santiam Drive. However, many other homeowners south of Hwy 214 may be affected if traffic from these future residences are allowed to enter at Santiam Drive.

Thank you to the members of the ad hoc committee who were appointed to keep abreast of the news regarding this property development.

Family Golf Day Report

by Diana & Allan Lindberg

This year over 85 golfers played in the two-day Family Golf Day event. This was an opportunity for our members and associates and family members to play for free. This was our sixth year; an event started during our 50th Anniversary Celebration in 2012.

Thank you to the following: Our Golf Pro Chuck Siver, Pro Shop employees Jim Worley and Lon Reed for their help in organizing the time slots. Renee Hayes and the Country Cottage Restaurant for 10% off coupons for participating players who enjoyed good meals and a golf course view, too. Marie Worley, who created the coupons. Tim O’Larey, our golf course superintendent and crew, for a great golf course that we are very proud of. Additional door prizes were provided by Jim Worley, Karen Taber and Ron Gripenstraw. This was a fun event! Hope you can join us next year.

Men’s Golf General Meeting Minutes

Woodburn Estates Men’s Golf General Meeting August 2, 2017

President Paul Eaton called the Meeting to order at 10 a.m. in the Dining Hall, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

Roll Call: Paul Eaton, Will Abshere, Allan Lindberg, Chuck Johnson, Ron Hansen, Stan Hiller, Steve Hobson, Ron Gripenstraw, Fred Bourne, and Len Westphal. General Manager Tom Staskiewicz and Past President Russ Krussow were also in attendance. A total of 28 members attended the Meeting.

New Members Present: Before beginning with the Officer and Committee Reports, President Eaton observed two members present for their first time. Associate members David Lopez and Bob Dugas introduced themselves.

President’s Report: President Eaton stated that the OGA is having a golf tournament on August 21st to be called “Eclipse on the Green”. The tournament will be a 2 Person Best Ball with a $100 entry fee. Jim Worley then commented that the Pro Shop has ordered “Eclipse” golf caps that will be available for sale before the eclipse on August 21st.

Vice President’s Report: VP Will Abshere reported that recently the Men’s Golf Club 9 Hole Group played a round from the new forward tees. Will recommended that the Men’s Golf Club 18 Hole Thursday Play also play a round from the new forward tees. Will then reiterated that on certain days (Tuesday and Wednesday for Lady golfers and Thursday for Men golfers) certain groups have the golf course set aside for their play from 7 a.m. till 11:30 a.m.

Treasurer’s Report: Treasurer Allan Lindberg provided the following report: Opening Balance: $2,452.21; Deposits: $270; Expenses: $60.00; Ending Balance: $2,662.21. Allan went on to state that the Club’s funds come from annual dues paid ($40 if paid by January 31st and $45 if paid after January 31st). From the annual dues collected, $35 per member is paid to the OGA for membership in the USGA. The Men’s Golf Club Constitution requires that the Treasurer maintain a minimum balance of $2,500 in our account. Additional expense from our account includes the purchase of a traditional jacket for the Men’s Golf Club Champion.

Secretary’s Report: Secretary Chuck Johnson stated he had nothing to report.
COMMITTEE REPORTS:

Greens: Greens Committee representative Fred Bourne was unable to attend the July Greens Committee Meeting. President Eaton attended the July 10th Greens Committee Meeting and provided the following information: Hole Number 9 continues to have safety issues as to the tee box location, requiring additional arborvitae be planted to provide protection. New score cards will not change the handicap status or par as to play from the white and gold tees. Green fees for the Snowbird Tournament have been decreased from $27 to $25. Tim O’Larey, our Golf Course Superintendent, has hired a new crew member, but still has an opening for another crew member. As stated earlier by our GM, cart path repair is forthcoming and new tee boxes are to be built for the new forward tees. The OB line on hole number 11 has been repainted.

Handicap: Allan Lindberg reported on the recent audit he and Co-Chair Clint Hansen performed. He stated that all score cards should have a date of play provided and indicate whether the score has been posted. Allan stated that the new software, the Golf Genesis Program, is more complex and covers a multitude of scenarios.

Mixed Tournaments: Chairman Len Westphal reported that all sponsor fees have been paid with one exception. He stated that by raising the entry fees to $18 all past deficits have been met. Next year the entry fees may be lowered to $17 per event. For the Mixed Tournament on August 5th, Len reported that he needed additional volunteers to set up the sponsor’s tent at 7:30 a.m. He reported that Allan and Diana Lindberg will handle the ticket table at the after tournament dinner. President Eaton remarked that he had heard complaints regarding the 2 Person formats as the complainants desired that all Mixed Tournaments have a 4 Person format. Bob Price then reported that he needs a couple to play with them in the August 5th Mixed Tournament.

Rules: Chairman Ron Hansen reported that the Match Play Tournament went well with the participants aware of the rules relative to Match Play. Ron then discussed the proper way to identify a ball and replace the ball.

Publicity: Chairman Will Abshere had nothing to report. Allan Lindberg, Marketing Director for the HOA, reported that a full page ad relative to our golf course/community was recently placed in the Keizertimes Health & Wellness Magazine as well as on their website.

Sunshine: Chairman Ron Gripenstraw reported that he sent cards to Mike Burton and Vern Hamilton regarding their medical issues. He also sent a Sympathy card to Sandy Blaylock for the recent passing of her husband, Don.

Membership: Chairman Stan Hiller stated that the incentive program “Refer a Friend” has been successful in bringing in new members. He also stated that our membership this year is equal to that of last year.

Door Prizes: Co-Chair Steve Hobson reported that Gene Stiles has been able to come home after his medical issues required his stay at a rehab facility.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS: Nothing to report.

NEW BUSINESS: Chuck Johnson made a motion that the Constitution be amended relative to a minimum balance required within the Club’s account. Rather than a specified minimum amount, Johnson’s motion was to amend the Constitution to read that ...the Treasurer will maintain a reasonable threshold amount within the Club’s account”.., the motion seconded by Ron Hansen. Following discussion, the motion passed unanimously. Chuck Johnson then made a second motion as follows: “I move that the annual Men’s Golf Club Membership Dues be raised beginning January 1, 2018, to $45 if paid before January 31st and $50 if paid after January 31st”, the motion seconded by Stan Hiller. Following discussion, the motion passed unanimously.

CLOSING COMMENTS: Fred Bourne reported on the End of Watch Golf Tournament to be held on August 12th. He stated that there may be a need for additional golf carts. If provided by a member, the member would be reimbursed a rental fee. Russ Krussow inquired as to whether the Match Play winning voucher money has been recorded. Jim Worley reported that the voucher money has been recorded. Will Abshere then recognized Russ Krussow as our Match Play Champion and Tom King as the Champion of the Spring Handicap.

CLOSING: Steve Hobson made a motion to adjourn the Meeting, motion seconded, motion approved, and the Meeting was adjourned at 11:10 a.m.

NOTE: OUR NEXT GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING WILL BE HELD IN THE DINING HALL AT 10 AM ON WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 2017.

National Night Out at the Auditorium

August 1, 2017

by Kathy Hiller for Sharyn Cornett

There were about 8 pre-registered neighborhood gatherings at Woodburn Estates & Golf on Tuesday evening, August 1. This year, Sharyn Cornett from the Activities Committee arranged for a NNO group at the Clubhouse. Their first place to gather was at the Gazebo. But it was determined that, due to the soggy ground, it was not safe there. Their second choice was by the Breezeway – actually, the concrete area between the Health Center and the east end of the Clubhouse.

When the weather did not cooperate by staying hot, the last minute choice was to move into the Auditorium with air conditioning. (The organizers apologize to those who had planned to attend that night but didn't know the event had been moved indoors.)

There were approximately 60 members who did show up with their potluck dishes. A live band, Jericho Road, played for about an hour. Everyone enjoyed the music while they ate the fantastic food (there was lots of fresh fruit!) and visited with their neighbors. Tables were set up randomly so it was easy to move around and table-hop. Lieutenant Jason Millican was a special guest from WPD. He spoke about the upcoming eclipse. From the photos, it looks like everyone had a great time.

Women Go Wild over Dice Game with a Shady Past

by Valerie Takahama, The Orange County Register; Posted on the internet, Friday, January 04, 2002

SEAL BEACH, Calif. - The women are only a few rounds into their bunco game, and it's already getting a little wild on a school night in a quiet neighborhood in Seal Beach.

Andrea Wilke, an ebullient fourth-grade teacher seated at a card table, has moistened a tally sheet with her all-time, personal-best bunco score on it and stuck it onto her forehead.

The 43-year-old mother of two beams with something akin to pride of accomplishment.

"I'm going to see her driving her van with that thing stuck to her forehead," deadpans Jill Stewart, another mother of two, who creates a small spectacle herself when she wins possession of Bunco Bulldog, a blue beanbag toy awarded for rolling bunco, or three of a kind.

Wilke probably won't be wearing the score sheet, but the two women will undoubtedly see each other around their College Park East neighborhood - and now they know each other, thanks largely to their monthly bunco games.

Part female-bonding agent, part bridge-for-the-brainless, a bunco party among Wilke's friends and neighbors is a couple of hours a month of girl talk, good-natured jibes, hors d'oeuvres, dessert and free-flowing Chardonnay, all while the dice are rolling.

"It's not bunco, it's drunco," said Kelly Kumashira, who has a baby on her shoulder and is drinking Coke.

No wonder the game is enjoying a new surge of popularity, especially among suburban women.

"It's usually played by groups of women and it lets them get away from their families, but they're not spending money. It's back to the basics," said Leslie Crouch of Carlsbad, founder of the World Bunco Association. The association's Web site is: www.worldbunco.com

The game itself goes way back.

It apparently started in Victorian England and came to the United States as a gambling game known first as "banco," and later called "bunko" or "bunco." During the Gold Rush, a crooked gambler in San Francisco is said to have used the progressive dice game to bilk earnings from '49ers. Eventually, "bunco" became the general term for con games and scams.

After the Civil War, the scam went straight and became a popular parlor game, particularly in the Midwest. Crouch said her 93-year-old grandmother remembers playing bunco in Chicago in the 1930s. The game inevitably spread from the cities as suburbs developed.

The current resurgence got a boost in 1996 when Crouch and a partner got together to market "It's Bunco Time!!!," the first boxed set of bunco tools - dice, bell, score sheets, tally pads, pencils and fuzzy dice, plus a traveling box with a handle for $19.95.

Crouch and her partner, Camilla Ethell, sold about 50,000 game sets in the first year before selling out to a game company.

But bunco is so simple, groups don't have to buy a game to play. Usually, there are three tables of four players - a winning table, and middle and losing tables, with the winning table controlling the play. Each table has two randomly selected teams.

Players take turns rolling three dice, first for ones, then twos and so on. Each time they roll that round's number, their team earns a point.

When a player gets three of the number - a bunco - her team earns 21 points. When the winning table reaches 21 points or rolls a bunco, a bell is rung to signal the end of that round, and all players total their scores.

Prizes usually are awarded for the highest and lowest scores and most buncos. In some groups, the hostess buys small gifts to give out as prizes, but most groups ask members to contribute $5 to a kitty, which is divvied at the end.

I Rest My Case

by Chuck Johnson

I recently wrote an article entitled “Making Golf Fun Again” that was published in the June 9 edition of the News & Views. My purpose in writing the article was to illustrate the benefits to our lady golfers who take advantage of the new Forward Tees and appeal to various entities (Friday Funnies, the Sundowners, Mixed Tournaments, Ladies Golf Clubs, etc.) to immediately allow our lady golfers to play from the new forward tees as soon as the rating was returned from the OGA.

On Friday, July 21, the annual event known as the “Mixed Horse Race” was held. My wife and I have participated in this fun event in the past and looked forward to playing this year. We were informed that the lady golfers would not be allowed to play from the new Forward Tees but rather from the old gold Forward Tees. So we chose not to participate in part as a protest against the decision to not allow the lady golfers to play from the new Forward Tees.

Our decision was not to disparage the skill of the lady golfers, many of whom could probably beat me if playing from the White Tees. Neither was the decision made to in any way detract from this year’s Mixed Horse Race, an event that turned out to be one of the most exciting events of this golfing year. We merely felt that if the event had allowed play from the new Forward tees there would have been more teams participating, the event would have moved along much faster, and scoring would have been much better.

So on the day of this year’s Mixed Horse Race, my wife and I were spectators rather than participants. I was curious as to how the lady golfers would perform from the old gold Forward Tees especially on the par threes as the lady golfers in the event teed off from the odd holes (1, 5, and 9, all par three holes). There were 17 teams that participated in this year’s Mixed Horse Race so 17 lady golfers hit their tee shots on the First hole, a par three measuring 141 yards. So how many of the lady golfers hit their tee shots on the green on this hole? Zero! One shot hit the front of the green and rolled off. The new forward tees on hole number 1 measures 115 yards. I would wager that more than half of the tee shots from the new forward tees would have been on the green, leading to birdie putts.

Hole number 5 is a par 3, playing 142 yards from the old gold forward tees. I believe there were now 8 teams remaining in the competition so 8 lady golfers teed off on this hole. So how many of these 8 lady golfers hit their tee shots on this hole on the green? One! The new forward tees on hole number 5 measures 115 yards. I would again wager that more than half of the tee shots from the new forward tees would have been on the green, again leading to birdie putts.

Hole 9 is the last par 3 on the front 9, playing 149 yards from the old gold forward tees. With only the last 2 teams remaining in the competition, only 2 lady golfers teed off, neither of them hitting their tee shots on the green. The new forward tees on hole number 9 measures 126 yards and I believe one or both of the lady golfers would have placed their tee shots on the green.

The purpose of this article is not to detract from the skill of our lady golfers. Neither is it meant to detract from what turned out to be an exciting event. The purpose I intend is to reiterate that the Gold Tees were established many years ago when our golf course was built and lady golfers were few and far between. These Gold Tees were actually meant to be a forward tee for men golfers and requiring our lady golfers to play from these tees is a disservice to their game. By playing the new forward tees, our lady golfers will score better, have opportunities for birdies, the pace of play will improve greatly, and overall, golf will be fun again. I rest my case.

How Does One Write A Love Story?

by Dagmar Dettinger

At 5 o'clock in the morning, after a restless night, while the never-sleeping brain is already pondering my love story, it dictated a constant barrage of suggestions on how to get this story onto paper for the rest of the world to marvel and experience in the background about what happened to Alan and me at this late time in our lives. Here it goes:

“Does he squeeze the toothpaste tube from the bottom up? Does he hang the toilet paper with the sheets forward? If he does that, he is the right one!” said Jack, who is one of about 30 seniors who participates in the exercise classes I happen to be part of.

But, to make a long story a bit shorter, I will start at the beginning...

About 2 years ago an older (as we all are) man joined our German Choir, the Liedertafel Harmony, with his very nice baritone voice honed already in other choirs over many years. He had attended a concert at the Old Church in Portland where the small choir that I belonged to, called “Liederkreis”, had their annual Christmas concert and most of the songs were sung in the German language.

As Alan told me later after we had been together a while, when he saw me among the group, he wanted to get to know me. He googled the German Choirs in Portland and up came the Liedertafel and he joined us one day and quickly became our president, was liked by all and fell in love with the whole group.

Fast forward to 2016/2017 New Year’s Eve Party, an annual Dinner-Dance celebration the Liedertafel organizes each year. As usual, I was part of the kitchen crew but that did not deter Alan from asking me to dance with him. I think I still wore my apron. It seemed to delight him because he smiled his wide grin none can resist, and we danced to music from the 60s that the young band was playing for us oldies who were used to waltzes and polkas.

One dance. That was it and I ran back to the job in the kitchen, turned around before I disappeared and saw him standing there with outstretched hands. I walked back to him apologizing for I had no idea that he wanted to dance another dance with me.

One month later we had our first date and knew where it would take us. It was still the middle of winter and it was cold out. We sat in a Lebanese Restaurant, ordered a sample dinner, which we never ate, and talked for hours.

On our walk back to our individual cars we talked and I drove him to his parked car and we still talked some more, shook hands, said, “auf wiedersehen” and drove off. Right then and there I wanted to reach out to him with a hug. On my drive to Woodburn I suddenly reached next to me wanting to say something to him for his ethereal presence seemed so powerful, but of course, the seat was empty.

As we talked on the phone the next day I told him what had happened in my car and he just matter-of-fact answered, “Yes, I was thinking of you, wanting you to have a safe trip home.”

The rest is history. We bought rings yesterday!
