

AWARE: Bike Donations

L-R: Jason Morgan and Jesus Gutierrez

by Karen Gill

Many families in the greater Woodburn area do not have automobiles. Some walk miles to obtain food at the food pantry. Because of this great need for transportation the goal is to obtain bicycles for Seniors, Families and Farm Workers.

Jesus Gutierrez and Jason Morgan of The Northwest Hub bring their “bicycle bus” to the Aware food bank 1530 Mt. Hood Ave. on the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays from 3:30-6 p.m. with bicycles, helmets, and locks for those who need bicycles for transportation.

Current needs are:

Donation bicycles, new helmets, and bicycle locks.

Helpers to “fix up” the donated bikes.

If you can donate a bicycle, a helmet, or a lock Karen Gill will store them in her garage until The Hub picks them up. Karen’s address is 1667 Vanderbeck Lane. Phone/ Text: 503-791-0898.

If someone wants to “fix up” bikes, please connect with Jesus Gutierrez at 503-800-8184.

All About Pickleball

by Karen Linton

In 1965, three dads on Bainbridge Island, Washington, were tired of hearing their kids complain of being bored – this was WAY before handheld games, much less tablets, home computers, video games, etc. So, they devised a game that was a smash-up of tennis, badminton, and ping pong that became pickleball.

Why the name, pickleball? No one, not even the creators (who have since gone to the court in heaven) could remember why. There are a couple of ideas – like calling it after a pickle boat in rowing or after a dog of one of the dads – but there’s no official explanation.

The “Pickleball Capital of the World” is Naples, Florida, where just one center has 60 courts! There’s a rap video called “The Pickleball Song,” and many celebrities have joined the sport and advocate for it. By recent estimations, over 4.8 million people play on over 9,254 pickleball courts in parks, community centers, and sports complexes across the U.S. There are now special Pickleball products and clothing, even shoes that say “Pickleball Grandpa”!

Four 20x44 foot courts can fit into a regulation-sized tennis court. It’s easy to play so people of all ages and athleticism can play. It even has its own vocabulary! For example, Flapjack - the word for a ball to bounce before being able to be hit on a serve. Dillball - an incoming ball that has bounced and can be hit. The Kitchen - a 7-foot zone on either side of the net where you’re forbidden to hit the ball unless it’s bounced first. Dink Shot - a shot in which the ball is plinked from your kitchen into your opponent’s kitchen. Opa - after two bounce hits, you can shout “OPA” to signify that balls can now be hit in the air (and here I thought you said “Opa” when you’re dancing and drinking at a Greek restaurant). Pickled - if you don’t score any points in a game.

There will be four new courts at Legion Park when the remodeling is complete. Here at WEG, members can play in the dining room and auditorium. Check the N&V calendar.

If a Property Owner would like to request that a matter be placed on the agenda for any Members’ Meeting, such motion shall address only one subject that is not in conflict with Oregon laws, the Articles of Incorporation, the Declaration of Restrictions, the Bylaws, the Rules and Regulations and shall be delivered to the Secretary at the Association’s office for notice and publication at least sixty (60) days prior to the date of such meeting.

Lifetime Golf

by Women’s Golf Club

One of the perks of being an active WEG golf member and turning 90 years old is the presentation of a certificate for lifetime golf! The Women’s Golf Club had one of their members reach that impressive milestone. Congratulations to Rosa Nichols! Ken Bourne, Director of Golf on the WEG board was on hand to make that presentation.

Celebration of Life for Kenny Leonard

by Connie Doyon
Ken passed away on July 1, 2022. A Celebration of Life is planned for Saturday, September 3, at the Woodburn Estates dining hall from 2 - 4 p.m. An honor guard will provide a short ceremony to honor Ken for his service in the Marine Corp.

Memorial for Robert Teneyck

by Ruth Teneyck
My darling husband, Robert Teneyck, passed away on July 12, 2022. He was widely known and there will be 2 Memory Gathering Memorials. On September 17th, there will be a gathering at Woodland Chapel Center for Spiritual Living at 1 p.m. Please write one memory you have of Robert and bring it with you. You may read it or someone else will be glad to read it. Then you can put it in the receptacle in the entry.

The second Memory Gathering Memorial will be held at Woodburn Estates on September 24th at 1 p.m. Please write one memory you have of Robert and bring it with you. You may read it or someone else would be glad to read it. Then you can put it in the designated receptacle.

Pop Tabs: The Sweetest Way to Support the Ronald McDonald House Charities

by Sherman Lackey
Ronald McDonald House Charities of Oregon & SW Washington provides access to medical care, a home away from home, and a community of support for seriously ill or injured children and their families.
Woodburn Estates & Golf members, if you use any can that has an aluminum pull tab, save the pull tabs, and drop them off at the News & Views Office. When there is an accumulation, they will be taken to the Salem Red Cross for their journey to Ronald McDonald’s House.

Out & About

by Karen Linton

Update on the Senior Estates Park: the City Parks and Recreation Committee voted to fence the area at the southernmost part of the park, however, the three residents adjacent to that area protested that people would trespass onto their properties to avoid the fenced area so the committee will revisit their decision. It will be in the general area of where the unfenced area is now. The new water fountain, as previously reported, has been purchased and is awaiting installation. In addition, the city is moving a gazebo from another park and installing it in our park! It will be available to reserve from the city for special occasions.

The Woodburn City Council had approved the annexation of almost 40 acres on the east side of Boones Ferry Road north of Hazelnut Dr., for an 87-house subdivision. It will be known as Marion Point.

In a marathon City Council meeting, multiple people spoke about the proposed gas station/convenience store on the corner of 214 and Oregon Way. The Planning Committee had conditionally approved the project's Option 1, but ODOT had not given their go-ahead, so the developer asked to get approval for an Option 2 which the Planning Committee had not approved. Meanwhile, there was an appeal against the Committee's decision filed by the owners of two competing gas stations. After hearing from the attorney for the appeal, the developer's spokespersons, and residents affected by the project, the Council voted to reject the Planning Committee's recommendation to approve the project. Since the land is zoned commercial and there must be legal reasons to deny the development (not just that we don't want or need a gas station or it would be unattractive to look at or have a gas odor), the developers can appeal this decision and/or file a lawsuit.

At the end of Evergreen Road going north, there was a mobile home dealership that had been vacant for several years. There is now what appears to be a used car, used RV, and utility trailer dealer. It encompasses even more space than the previous dealer. Also, in the strip center adjacent, there is a driving school, open for a few months.

WFD Media Release

by Joe Budge, Fire Chief, Woodburn Fire District

On 7-18-22 at 1:01 am, Woodburn firefighters responded to a residential structure fire on Tomlin Avenue in Woodburn. The fire was started by the spontaneous ignition of rags that were used to clean up oil-based stain. None one was injured in the fire that caused extensive damage to the home.

WFD E-21 arrived to find a one-story ranch style residence with heavy fire showing on the west side of the house and heavy smoke issuing from all of the roof eves from the attic vents. The fire started on the exterior and grew rapidly in a pile of debris that was stored against the outside wall of the home. The fire extended into the house through a large bedroom window that failed due to fire impingement within one minute of the fire ignition. The first arriving fire crews did a quick knock-down of the exterior fire and then made entry into the house and extinguished the fire in the bedroom that was adjacent to the exterior fire. Following a thorough search of the structure for trapped occupants, firefighters worked to pull down the ceiling drywall to expose and extinguish the fire that had fully involved the entire attic space.

Fire investigators determined that a trash bag filled with rags used to clean up an oil-based finish had spontaneously ignited. The homeowner's security cameras provided video evidence of the fire ignition and investigators found the remains of the rags used to clean-up the oil-based stain.

A family of four, that was sleeping when the fire started, escaped before firefighters arrived. Firefighters had zero visibility and high heat upon entry into the structure. The fire heavily damaged the west exterior of the home, the attic and roof structure and one bedroom. Heavy smoke conditions throughout the home and the need for ceiling removal and water application in the attic damaged the contents in all rooms of the residence. The intensity of the fire blistered paint and melted the vinyl windows of a neighboring home.

The Woodburn Fire District would like to remind homeowners to use caution when working with oil-based stains and finishes. Spontaneous combustion of oily rags occurs when a rag or cloth used in the product application or clean-up is slowly heated to its ignition point through oxidation that releases heat. If the heat has no way to escape, like in a pile or sealed garbage bag, the temperature will rise to a level high enough to ignite the oil and the rag or cloth. All rags used to apply and clean-up oil-based finishes must be stored outside in a metal container or laid out in the open on a noncombustible surface until fully dry before disposing.

Homeowners should also avoid the storage of combustible materials against the exterior of their home. An exterior fire will quickly break windows and extend into the living spaces of the home and into the attic through ventilation openings.

The Beginning of the End or a New Lease on Life

When I told some of the people; I knew in my old circle of friends that I was moving into Country Meadows Village, I was met with opposing views, and some even said it was the beginning of the end. I am glad that I have not found that to be the case; it has given me a new lease on life.

As I began settling into my new home at Country Meadows, I realized that I had been hanging with the wrong crowd, and their negativity rubbed off on me. I had to give up my driver's license when my eyesight began to deteriorate, so I did not get out as much as I used to. This, along with some other restrictions in my life, caused me to complain and, I think, attracted other complainers as friends.

Now I have a new set of friends who see the positives of living in a community that caters to my needs. Large print signs and entertainment calendars keep me informed about what choices I have each day to get out and socialize.

One of the things about living in the outside community is how younger people treated me; when I went to get a new cell phone, and the clerk spoke to me like I was two years old, it added to my sadness. Many young people at Country Meadows help us daily, but the difference is they are trained to understand that older people are just that, older people who have had a life and now need help as they age. I never feel stupid or talked down to; their energy and encouragement boost me.

Talk about a one-stop shop, I get my meals cooked for me, and at dinner, I can take a wine tour with a complimentary glass of wine from local vineyards. I have my hair and nails done without leaving the community. I can even get a massage or facial when I want. The country store in the main lobby makes buying gifts for my family and friends easy. Fred Meyer, eat your heart out! When I want to go further afield, I can use community transportation, and Scott, our driver, is a hoot.

As if all of this was not enough to change my negative feelings into positive ones, I have a wellness program tailored to me, and I am not just talking about physical exercise. I can improve my memory with brain activities and get advice on diet to help with arthritis pain and heart health. This is great because I want to enjoy this new lease on life for as long as possible.

60 Years of Women's Golf (1961–2021):
Part Twenty-One

Lady Putters

1994
by Diana Lindberg
Women's Club President – Gerine Reagan
Men's Club President – Dick Snyder

The association was filling up. One of the last remaining sections was being built out in what some call the “flower section,” being the north section off Umpqua.

1994 was the first year that the women's club members were separated into groups. There were 25 Social Members listed; The Nine Hole women numbered 85; Eighteen- Hole women numbered 125 making the total membership 235.

Clothing had changed with the women wearing clothes much like today, more pants and casual.

On May 19th, The Restated Constitution and Bylaws for the Women's Club were adopted at the regular business meeting.

The Rose-A-Rama was played on June 18 after each group took a photo with a life-sized golfing lady in the Rose Arch. Volunteers decorated each hole.

Visitations with Senior Estates and other clubs continued during the year. Sponsors for events included Woodburn Landscaping, Hubbard Chevrolet, US Bank-Fairway Plaza Businesses, Caldwell Banker, Russ Baglien and Associates, McCurdy Travel, Trachsel Buick, and McCully Realty.

Jim White, then our golf professional, gave out the winning names at dinner following each tournament.

The December 21 meeting and Christmas luncheon honored the outgoing President and welcomed the 1995 Women's Club president, Kathy Baldwin. Past Presidents were introduced and thanked for their past leadership. Randy Warren was elected as the 1995 Men's Club president.

1995
January through March, and October through December luncheons were held in the auditorium. Play Day was no longer the meeting day. The tee-off times were changed to accommodate the weather in each given month.

The club included 25 Social Members, 76 Nine Hole members, and 117 Eighteen-hole members: a total of 218 members.

The game play in both 1995 and 1996 and the sponsors, were almost identical to 1993 and 1994, but Dundee was added as an invitational. Dues were increased to $21.00 for 1996 and the Snowbirds were asked to pay their dues before leaving for the winter months.

On December 12, 1995, a storm created extensive damage and took several trees down on Hole two. The Statesman Journal reported the next day that winds over one hundred miles per hour hit coastal cities causing extensive damage. Portland General Electric estimated that 175,000-200,000 people were without power in the Willamette Valley and western Oregon. The Silverton and Woodburn areas were estimated at 20,000.

The presidents for 1996 were Jackie Miller and Elsie Speckels.

Tim O'Larey started work at Senior Estates & Golf, the first of 25 years on October 7, 1996. Tim retired in 2021. THANK YOU, TIM!

The golf lounge was attached to the Pro shop and dedicated. The main lounge builders were Jackie Miller, Randy Anderson, George Anderson, Gator Sherer, Jack Delaleur, and Don Strong. Without their contributions and labor, the lounge would not have been completed. There were many others, both men and women volunteers, who contributed time and donations to the project.

by Barb Knox
July has come and gone way too fast, only 2 more months in our season.

Lady Putters had a great July; eight ladies were recognized for accumulating 5 holes-n-one, Ella Racette, Alice Green, Diane Goladader, Darlene Hartley, Barb Knox, Karen Ewing, and Georgette Rehfeld. Great job by everyone!

July 25th was Lady Putters Invitational. We invited men to join the ladies. We had an excellent turnout, with a total of 45 men and women putting. A total of 41 holes-n-one were made. I'm afraid the men out putted the women this year, but we will get another chance next year. It was truly a fun day.

A huge shout out to all the ladies helping with the luncheon, decorating, meal prep, serving, and clean-up. Your help was greatly appreciated.

New Bible Study Group

by Alan Patz
Do you have any tough questions about the Bible? Here is your chance to find the answers. The WEG Bible Study Group is starting back up in September. The group itself is not “new;” however, they have a new leader. Jared Jenkins has decided to retire from hosting this study and Alan Patz has stepped up to take it on. They also have a new location. It is now going to be held in Conference Room 1 instead of the Craft room. All are welcome.
Beginning September 6th:

The Concept of Clouds

by Carol Wellington
The summer of 2022 has provided an opportunity for thinking about the current concept of Cloud Computing which was born in the year 1996. Prior to that year, our generation thought of clouds as a force of nature that provided cooler, damper weather patterns.
I chose this topic because we have seen so few clouds in our area during the last few weeks. On a recent Saturday in July, it was my privilege to see the accumulation. shown in the attached photo while I was enjoying my morning cup of coffee on the patio. What a welcome sight nature provided!
In these times of advancement in technology, let us not forget the simple gifts of nature!

Deflating Spending Amid High Inflation

by N&V Staff
Prices keep going up, up, up. Between the time it took us to write this article and you got a chance to read it, prices may have climbed another few percent. Such are the times, but we have some tips for saving money and trimming spending.
Ultimately, if you want to save money, especially amid high inflation, you should go through your spending line-by-line and see where you can swap in cheaper alternatives. Be sure to search for those movie channels you don't watch and other monthly charges to your Apple or Google account. They can add up.
Couponing used to take quite a bit of work. You might spend hours flipping through newspaper pages and cutting out good deals. But buy only what you will use.
People love eating out, with Americans dining out nearly six times per week on average, according to Business Insider. But you could buy fresh pre-prepared meals at many grocery stores. Often, you can throw these delights in the oven and heat them in a matter of minutes. Best way to save on food? Buy cheap staples – rice, potatoes, beans, veggies – and cook them yourself.

Where the Water is Twenty Fathoms Deep

by Sherman Lackey
The day is done, and I want to go where things are better, and life is sweet.
Where bothers are few and no one knows of the stress that makes a body grow old.
Where cares are few and life is neat
I want to go where the water is twenty fathoms deep.
Up comes the anchor and the lines cast to the shore
we nose her out as we have done before.
Where we are going where sleep is sure the swells break over the bow as the sea birds soar.
Miles to go before we sleep
I want to go where the water is twenty fathoms deep.
Beyond the horizon the sun is almost gone
the sea birds sing one last song.
We fill the gal with sweet fresh air
in preparation for why we are here.

Everything is battened down
there is nothing that will make a sound.
As we are running it is time to get some sleep
I want to go where the water is twenty fathoms deep.
We close the hatch and flood the tanks adjust the diving planes and to GOD say thanks.
We go where the water is ever so cold
this part of the journey never grows old.
We have come to the end of another day with no regrets or worries for tomorrow bodies to bury.
We sit on the bottom where we can weep
I like being where the water is twenty fathoms deep.

Not all products and options are available in all states. Terms subject to change without notice. Certain conditions and fees apply. This is not a loan commitment. All loans subject to approval. L4271-Exp022023

Charges such as an origination fee, mortgage insurance premiums, closing costs and/or servicing fees, if applicable, may be assessed and will be added to the loan balance. As long as you comply with the terms of the loan, you retain title until you sell or transfer the property, and therefore, you are responsible for paying property taxes, insurance and maintenance. Failing to pay these amounts may cause the loan to become immediately due and/or subject the property to a tax lien, other encumbrance or foreclosure. The loan balance grows over time, and interest is added to that balance. Interest on a reverse mortgage is not deductible from your income tax until you repay all or part of the interest on the loan. Although the loan is non-recourse, at the maturity of the loan, the lender will have a claim against your property and you or your heirs may need to sell the property in order to repay the loan, or use other assets to repay the loan in order to retain the property.
